

DANCER'S EDGE

Dancer's Edge is a dance studio in Marion, Indiana that began in 2002, and led by business owner Brandy Michell Revenaugh. For the last six years they have experienced many changes, including a new facility, but their quality of dance and the standard of business remains the same as always. They stress the importance of proper technique through correct body placement, strength, and flexibility.

They encourage and foster the passion of their dancers to understand and respect this unique art form. Whether your goal is to enjoy dance solely for recreational purposes or to become a professional dancer, they will provide the level of education needed and desired. In the last few years Dancer's Edge has brought in top flight professional dance instructors from around the country to train and choreograph the local students' numbers and the results have led to some incredible results for Grant County. Dancer Magazine rated Dancer's Edge as the number 1 most competitive dance studio in the State of Indiana. Dancer's Edge was the 2009 Adrenaline National Champions and they have received numerous awards and trophy's while in business. Brandy travels around the country to teach and her passion for dance is undeniable.
